The Emerging Country Local Debt Composite includes pooled funds seeking to achieve total return in excess of that of the J.P. Morgan GBI-EM Global Diversified (GBI-EMGD). The funds invest primarily in sovereign and quasi-sovereign debt instruments of emerging countries, denominated in (or hedged into) local currencies. The funds emphasize bottom-up issue selection over top-down country/currency/interest-rate market selection. The composite was created in March 2008.

The strategy is not limited in its use of derivatives and typically the impact is material. Both the use of derivatives and borrowing may cause a portfolio's gross investment exposure to be in excess of its net assets (i.e., leverage), which may subject a portfolio to a heightened risk of loss. During the period presented the strategy typically used currency forwards, options, swaps, and rights/warrants.

The internal dispersion of annual gross returns is measured by the equal-weighted standard deviation of account gross returns represented within the composite for the full year. For periods with five or fewer accounts included in the composite for the entire year, 'N/A' is noted as the dispersion is not considered meaningful. The three-year annualized standard deviation measures the variability of the gross composite and benchmark returns over the preceding 36-month period. For periods without 36 months of composite performance history, 'N/A' is provided for both the composite and its benchmark.

Performance results are presented both gross and net of investment advisory fees. The composite results are time-weighted rates of return net of commissions, transaction costs and withholding taxes on foreign income and capital gains. Returns for mutual funds included in the Composite include securities lending income, if applicable. Valuations and returns are calculated and expressed in U.S. dollars. All composite returns reflect the reinvestment of dividends and other earnings. Gross returns do not reflect the deduction of investment advisory fees or any other expenses that may be incurred in the management of this account. Effective January 1, 2014 net composite returns are calculated using a model advisory fee by applying the current highest fee to the composite's gross-of-fee returns on a monthly basis. Prior to January 1, 2014 net returns were calculated by applying the account's actual fee schedule in effect for the respective period on a monthly basis for each account in the composite. The model advisory fee is the higher of the maximum standard fee charged to separate accounts, without taking into account any applicable breakpoints, or the highest fee paid by any account in the composite. Actual fees paid may be higher or lower than model advisory fees.

Past performance is not an indicator of future results.
